SCWGA update for ALL RLGA players – new for 2022

Elizabeth Sanden and Dot Alexander (your SCWGA reps) wanted everyone to know that this year, the procedure to sign up for an event is going to happen a bit differently than in the past.

- 1) SCWGA tournament hosts will no longer take responsibility to form playing groups – you/we need to form our own groups and sign up for tournaments “as a group” (threesome or foursome)
- 2) SCWGA wants each group to send in “one” entry form for their playing group – and entry checks must accompany the entry form and be received together
- 3) Signup deadlines apply to receipt by the hosting club’s rep of the entry form WITH all player checks included
- 4) If you sign up as a threesome, SCWGA may place a single with your group (only if needed to accommodate all players desire to play)

Anyone who needs help finding a group to join any given event should contact Elizabeth Sanden or Dot Alexander, and we will help you find an RLGA group to play with. If you are willing to be paired with players from another club, let us know as that can also be a possibility.

New for 9 hole RLGA players in 2022- Because all GHIN handicaps are now “18 hole” handicaps, 9 hole league players now have the chance to join SCWGA “if” your 18 hole handicap is 40 or below. (note: you will be playing 18 hole rounds for SCWGA tournaments)
